

Q3 Weekly Reading Letter A Example

Dear Mrs. C,

This week I am reading Facing the Lion by Joseph Lemasolai Lekuton. This week's strategy is connecting. Connecting is when you relate what you are reading to something else you have seen or experienced or read. First, I've been close to a lion, too, except it wasn't eating; it was sleeping. Next, I've been to Kenya and met members of the Maasai tribe. Finally, I camped out in the middle of nowhere once on my way from Albuquerque to Denver. I've never seen so many stars. I really like this book.

Sincerely,

Kiernan
